RACKSPACE PRIVACY STATEMENT

Rackspace Hosting group companies (collectively “Rackspace,” “our,” “we” or “us”) respect your privacy and are committed to maintaining the privacy and confidentiality of the personal information they collect. To view a list of digital properties (“Rackspace Websites”) that this Privacy Statement covers, please click here.

Rackspace will process Customer Data (as such term is defined in Rackspace customer agreements), which may include personal data, only to the extent and in such a manner as is necessary to provide the Services under the Agreement or as otherwise instructed by Customer from time to time.

Our personal information handling practices are described below, in any applicable privacy supplements, and in notices at the point of data collection.

We urge you to read this Privacy Statement so that you understand our commitment to you and your privacy, and how you can participate in that commitment. If you have any questions, please contact us at privacy@rackspace.com. If you have an unresolved privacy or data use concern that we have not addressed satisfactorily, please contact our U.S.-based third party dispute resolution provider (free of charge) at <https://feedback-form.truste.com/watchdog/request>.

Rackspace’s privacy practices, described in this Privacy Statement, comply with the APEC Cross Border Privacy Rules System. The APEC CBPR system provides a framework for organizations to ensure protection of personal information transferred among participating APEC economies. More information about the APEC framework can be found here.

SCOPE and YOUR CONSENT TO OUR USE OF YOUR INFORMATION

This Privacy Statement applies to personal information and other information collected by Rackspace or its service providers from or about: (i) visitors to, or users of, Rackspace Websites; (ii) prospective and current customers using Rackspace hosting and information technology services (the “Services”); (iii) users of any mobile-device applications that it offers (such as its iOS and Android applications); (iv) service providers and business partners; (v) job applicants; and (vi) other third-parties that it interacts with.

Please note if you are:

- applying for a job at Rackspace, the privacy notice at <http://www.rackspace.com/information/legal/privacystatement/jobcandidates> also applies to you; or
- a Rackspace customer and you're using a Rackspace mobile-device app to monitor and manage the Services, the privacy notice at <http://www.rackspace.com/information/legal/privacystatement/mobileapps> also applies to you.

By providing your personal information to Rackspace in the ways described in this Privacy Statement, you:

- agree that you are authorized to provide that information;
- are accepting this Privacy Statement and any supplementary privacy statements and notices that may be relevant to you.

If you do not agree to our practices, please do not register, subscribe, create an account, or otherwise interact with our Services, Rackspace Websites, or mobile-device applications.

DOES RACKSPACE PARTICIPATE IN THE PRIVACY SHIELD?

Rackspace US, Inc. (and its wholly-owned US subsidiaries ObjectRocket, LLC and TriCore Solutions, LLC) complies with the EU-U.S. Privacy Shield Framework and the Swiss – U.S. Privacy Shield Framework as set forth by the U.S. Department of Commerce regarding the collection, use, and retention of personal information transferred from the European Union and Switzerland to the United States, respectively. Rackspace US, Inc. (and its wholly-owned US subsidiaries ObjectRocket, LLC and TriCore Solutions, LLC) has certified to the Department of Commerce that it adheres to the Privacy Shield Principles. If there is any conflict between the terms in this privacy policy and the Privacy Shield Principles, the Privacy Shield Principles shall govern. To learn more about the Privacy Shield program, and to view our certification, please visit <https://www.privacyshield.gov/>

Rackspace is responsible for the processing of Personal Information it collects, or receives from its EU and Switzerland based affiliates, under the Privacy Shield Frameworks, and subsequently transfers to a third party acting as an agent on its behalf. Rackspace shall comply with the Privacy Shield Principles for all onward transfers of personal data from the EU and Switzerland, including the onward transfer liability provisions.

With respect to Personal Information received or transferred pursuant to the Privacy Shield Framework, Rackspace is subject to the regulatory enforcement powers of the U.S. Federal Trade Commission. In certain situations, Rackspace may be required to disclose Personal Information in response to lawful requests by public authorities, including to meet national security or law enforcement requirements.

Under certain conditions, more fully described on the Privacy Shield website at <https://www.privacyshield.gov/article?id=How-to-Submit-a-Complaint>, you may invoke binding arbitration when other dispute resolution procedures have been exhausted.

1. WHAT INFORMATION DOES RACKSPACE COLLECT AND FOR WHAT PURPOSE IS IT USED?

When we refer to “Personal Information”, we mean any information that can identify you. It includes information or an opinion from which you are reasonably identifiable. In some jurisdictions, Personal Information includes information that identifies a legal entity, such as company name. We describe the Personal Information that we collect in more detail below.

We may also collect information that is related to you but that does not personally identify you (“Non-personal Information”). Non-personal Information also includes information that could personally identify you in its original form, but that we have modified (for instance, by aggregating, anonymizing or de-identifying such information) in order to remove or hide any Personal Information.

WHEN WE COLLECT INFORMATION ABOUT YOU

- Information you give us or our service providers. You may provide Personal Information when you: (i) access Rackspace Websites, (ii) request, purchase and use the Services, (iii) use Rackspace mobile-device applications, (iv) communicate with Rackspace via phone calls, chat, email, web forms, social media and other methods of communication, (v) subscribe to Rackspace marketing material, (vi) apply for a job, (v) attend our events, or (vi) provide services to Rackspace.
- Information we collect about you and your device via automated means. Each time you visit a Rackspace Website, use any of our mobile-device applications, view a Rackspace advertisement on a third party-owned website or read a Rackspace marketing email, we may automatically collect information about you via cookies, web beacons and other similar technologies. You can find out more about this in our Cookies Notice available at <http://www.rackspace.com/information/legal/privacystatement/cookies>.
  - Email communication. We use pixel tags and cookies in our marketing emails so that we can track your interaction with those messages, such as when you open the email or click a URL link that’s embedded within them. When recipients click on one of those URLs, they pass through a separate web server before arriving at the destination page on a Rackspace Website. We use tools like pixel tags and cookies so that we can determine interest in particular topics and measure and improve the effectiveness of our communications.
  - Mobile. When you download or use our mobile-device applications, or access one of our mobile-optimized Rackspace Websites, we may receive information about your mobile device, including a unique identifier for your device. Please see the Rackspace Mobile Privacy Notice for more information.
- Information we receive from other sources. We work closely with third parties (for example, business partners, service providers, sub-contractors, advertising networks, analytics providers, search information providers, credit reference agencies, fraud protection services, channel partners and resellers) and may receive information about you from them.

- Social Media Platforms. We may receive certain information that's stored or processed by third parties, such as the social media sites Facebook®, Twitter® and LinkedIn® when you interact with us through these social media platforms. Rackspace Websites may include social media features - such as the Facebook "Like" button - and widgets - such as the "share this" button. These features may collect your IP address as well as details of the pages you are visiting on Rackspace Websites. Social media features and widgets are either hosted by a third party or hosted by Rackspace Websites. Each social media platform may have a privacy statement that specifically governs its use of social media features.
- Public Forums, Blogs and the Customer Reference Program. Rackspace Websites may feature bulletin boards, blogs or forums. Any Personal Information that you choose to submit via such a forum may be read, collected, or used by others who visit these forums, and may be used to send you unsolicited messages.
- Co-branding. Some Rackspace Websites or Services may be co-branded and offered in conjunction with another company. If you use such website or Services, both Rackspace and the other company may receive the Personal Information that's collected via that co-branded website or Service. The company whose privacy statement is displayed on a co-branded website will be responsible for Personal Information collected on such a website.
- Third-party vendors. In order to provide the Services and improve Rackspace Websites, Rackspace may engage the services of third-party vendors, such as referral partners, recruiters, and analytics partners. In the process of supplying services to Rackspace, these third-party vendors may need to collect Personal Information about you; such information may include name, email address and online activity to measure certain pages or campaigns.

THE TYPES OF INFORMATION WE COLLECT

- Contact Information includes your name, company name, job title, telephone numbers, fax numbers, postal addresses, email addresses, or other addresses at which you receive communications from or on behalf of Rackspace ("Contact Information"). When you are expressing an interest in obtaining additional information about the Services or signing up to use the Services, Rackspace requires that you provide contact information ("Required Contact Information").
- Transactional Information includes information about the Services you use, and how you interact with us and the Services (for example through email, customer portal, or phone).
- Billing Information includes financial qualification and billing information, such as billing name and address, and a credit card number, including card security number and credit card date of expiration.

- Optional Information includes your company's annual revenues, number of employees, industry or similar information that helps us tailor our Services to you. Please note, that Optional Information is information that you do not have to provide unless otherwise agreed between us.
- Information Collected by Automated Means includes information that Rackspace collects through commonly used information-gathering tools, such as cookies and web beacons. Such information includes standard information from your web browser (such as browser type and browser language), your Internet Protocol ("IP") address, and your activities on Rackspace Websites (such as the web pages viewed and the links clicked, number of visits, access time, device ID or other unique identifier, domain name, screen views, language information, device name and model, and operating system type), the URL of the site from which you came and the site to which you are going when you leave Rackspace Websites, your computer operating system, and mobile device operating system (if you are accessing Rackspace Websites using a mobile device).

For more detailed information on our use of cookies, please see our Cookie Notice.

Information Collected by Automated Means also includes information that we may collect about: your use of certain Service features; the functionality of the Services; when you click on ads; your participation in research initiatives like surveys about our Services.

While Rackspace does not monitor or view the specific data stored by its customers who are using the Services, it is necessary for Rackspace to track various parameters of transferred data (file size, etc.) to support features including, but not limited to, bandwidth monitoring and storage usage. Rackspace treats such information as Non-personal Information and in accordance with its agreements it has in place with its customers.

Sensitive Information: We will not intentionally collect or maintain, and do not want you to provide, any information regarding your medical or health condition, race or ethnic origin, political opinions, religious or philosophical beliefs or other sensitive information.

HOW WE USE YOUR INFORMATION

Unless otherwise stated herein, we use your information for providing you the Services that you have requested from us, as referred below:

- To contact you. We use your Contact Information to get in touch with you. Here are some examples of reasons why we might contact you to: communicate with you about your orders or the Services you use; conduct surveys; send you announcements about the Services; notify you about our upcoming events; administer surveys, sweepstakes, contests, or other promotional activities or events sponsored by us or our business partners;
- For marketing purposes. We use your Contact Information to recommend products and services that might be of interest to you, to send you marketing and advertising messages such as newsletters, announcements, or special offers or to notify you about our upcoming events. To provide you with marketing communications is not essential for the maintenance or existence of the legal relationship we may have with you at a certain point; thus, you may opt-out from receiving such communications as described in section 3 below. Your decision to opt-out from our marketing communications will not affect your ability to continue receiving the Services from us.

- To provide the Services to you. We need the Required Contact Information, Transactional Information, and Billing Information to: process orders (including payments) for our Services; provide the Services to you; provide access to secure areas of our websites; create and maintain your account, and control access to it.
- To measure interest in Rackspace Websites and advertisements. We need Information Collected via Automated Means to: measure interest in our websites and advertisements; develop our web pages and marketing plans; customize and improve the content you view when you visit Rackspace Websites; suggest products and services that you may be interested in purchasing; personalize the online ads we present to you based on your prior web visits or ads viewed; and enable us to review develop and continually improve the Services and offers we provide. Collecting this information is not essential for the maintenance or existence of the legal relationship we may have with you at a certain point. If you wish to opt-out of interest-based advertising or other forms of “tracking” please refer to our Cookie Notice.
- To enable third parties to provide services to us. We may need to provide your Required Contact Information to third parties so that they may carry out technical, logistical or other functions on our behalf. Please see more section 2 below. We also engage third-parties to provide us with reports about the usage and browsing patterns of Rackspace Websites. Such third parties track and analyze such information with respect to visitors to Rackspace Websites. Please see our Cookie Notice for additional details.
- We may also use your Personal Information in other ways as more particularly described in our terms of service or other agreements between us / your company. Any Personal Information you provide when you sign up for the Services may be used by us as we describe in the applicable terms of service or agreements between us and as described in this Privacy Statement. To assist us with the uses described in this paragraph, the information that we or our service providers have collected from or about you (for example, through Rackspace Websites, mobile-device applications, or Rackspace e-mail communications with you) may be combined with or enhanced by other information about you that we have obtained from you or from other sources, including from our service providers or business partners.
- To protect our business. We use information we collect to prevent or detect fraud or abuses of the Rackspace Websites and the Services, and to identify and protect our business from fraudulent transactions.
- To manage our everyday business needs, such as to: administer and manage our business; train our employees; help promote compliance with our terms of service or any other agreements between us; allow you to apply for a job; carry out research and development; carry out other purposes that are disclosed to you and to which you consent; or to comply with the law.

- Other. If you purchase our Services via one of our online tools, we will use the information that you provide during the online signup process to establish your account. Information you submit through on-line chat, email, and web form is archived and may be tied to information that we collect about your web visits. Your telephone call or a web conference may be recorded for training purposes and we may enter information you provide via telephone, or other means of communication, into our systems and use it for the purposes described in this section.

In an effort to avoid sending unnecessary messages to our customers and to comply with applicable email marketing laws and regulations, we compare our list of prospects and customers to those email lists that we receive from other companies.

2. DISCLOSURE OF PERSONAL INFORMATION

Except for the limited circumstances described in this Privacy Statement or your applicable agreement / terms of service, the Personal Information we gather is for internal use only and we will not authorize the release of this information to anyone outside of Rackspace unless to our authorized service providers or if you have consented to such disclosure. When we need to provide your Personal Information to third parties, we will only share it to the extent reasonably necessary. We may also share your Personal Information as required or permitted by law and as described below.

Please note that the parties to whom we send your Personal Information may be located in another country. Some of the countries in which these parties are located may not have the same or substantially similar privacy laws as those applicable to your own jurisdiction. We promise that your Personal Information will only be transferred to the Rackspace Group companies and other third parties as permitted by applicable law in a country where Rackspace operates and as described in this section.

- Disclosure to Rackspace Group Companies: Rackspace is a global company headquartered in the U.S. All of the information we collect about you may be transferred or accessed by our entities around the world. For example, your Personal Information may be transferred to, processed and stored in, the United States or any other country in which we or our affiliates/subsidiaries maintain facilities. We will protect the privacy and security of the Personal Information that we collect in accordance with the terms of this Privacy Statement and the applicable law.
- Disclosure to our Service Providers and third-party business partners: We may disclose, to the extent necessary for the provision of services, Personal Information to third party service providers and channel partners. Please be aware that our third party service providers and channel partners may be located in a different country to you, so your Personal Information may be transferred outside of your country.

We require that our third party service providers and channel partners agree to keep confidential all information we share with them and to use the information only to perform their obligations in the agreements we have in place with them. These third party service providers and channel partners are expected to maintain privacy and security protections that are consistent with Rackspace's privacy and information security policies.

While we provide these third parties with no more information than is necessary to perform the function for which we engaged them, any information that you provide to these third parties independently is subject to their respective privacy policies and practices.

- Disclosure to Others: Should you breach any of our terms and conditions (for example, our terms of service or the Rackspace Website term) or if we are under a duty to disclose or share your Personal Information in order to comply with any legal or compliance obligation, we may disclose your information to a relevant authority. We may need to release the information we collect to third parties when we believe it is appropriate to comply with the law, to enforce our legal rights, to protect the rights, safety or property of our business and others, or to assist with industry efforts to control fraud, spam or other undesirable conduct and as needed to support auditing, compliance, and corporate governance functions.

Additionally, we will provide information to a third party in the event of any reorganization, merger, sale, joint venture, assignment, transfer or other disposition of all or any portion of our business, assets or stock (including in connection with any bankruptcy or similar proceedings).

- Disclosure when we have your consent: We may also disclose your Personal Information and other information, for any other purpose disclosed by us when you provide the information, as otherwise required or permitted by law, and/or with your consent. Any such purposes may involve the transfer of your Personal Information across country borders.

We may disclose information that does not identify any individual or company (e.g., anonymous, aggregated data) without restriction. For example, we may provide our advertisers or other third parties with reports that contain aggregated and statistical data about our users.

3. HOW YOU CAN MANAGE YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION

- Communication Preferences and Opt-outs. If you wish to stop receiving email marketing communications from us, please click on the "unsubscribe" link at the bottom of the relevant email marketing communication or by following the instructions detailed in the communication. Please note that this may not unsubscribe you from all other communications. If you wish to opt-out completely then please contact us using the details provided below. Please note that you cannot unsubscribe from service-related messages.

In accordance with industry standards and applicable laws, we reserve the right to retain your Personal Information for a reasonable amount of time so we can ensure that we do not contact you in the future.

- Advertising and Tracking Technologies. If you wish to opt-out of interest-based advertising or other forms of "tracking" please refer to our Cookies Notice. Be aware that opting out of interest-based advertising will not prevent advertisements from being displayed to you but they will no longer be tailored to your interests.

- Access and Correction.

- If you would like to know what Personal Information we hold about you, you may submit a request to us by using the contact details below. We will supply Personal Information about you and that we hold in our own files within the reasonable timeframes stipulated by law. Please note that some requests may be subject to a reasonable fee.
- If you would like to correct, delete inaccuracies, or update the information we hold about you, or revoke consent previously granted, please follow these instructions:
  - If you're an existing customer, please log in to the applicable Rackspace control panel to submit a support ticket.
  - If you're a Rackspace Websites visitor, a user of our mobile-device applications, a prospective customer, job applicant, a service provider or business partner, please email privacy@rackspace.com or write to us at the address listed in section 10 of this Privacy Statement.
- Clients of our customers must contact the customer directly with any data subject access requests. If Rackspace receives a data subject access request from its customers' clients, Rackspace will notify the customer as soon as reasonably practicable in writing of any communication received from an individual relating to an individual's rights to access, modify, correct, delete or block his or her Personal Information.
- Deleting your information. If you would like us to delete your Personal Information from our records then please contact us by using the details below and we will respond within a reasonable time. Please note that we may be required to retain certain information by law and/or for our own legitimate business purposes.

To protect your privacy, we will require you to prove your identity before granting access to, or agreeing to update, correct or delete your Personal Information and we will only implement requests with respect to Personal Information about you (not anyone else).

- Choosing not to provide us with certain information. You can choose not to provide certain information when using Rackspace Websites, Services or mobile-device applications, but this may prevent you from being able to take full advantage of the functions available online and it may prevent us from being able to provide you with Services.

4. SECURITY OF YOUR INFORMATION

- The measures we take. We are committed to industry best practice when it comes to preventing loss, misuse, alteration, unauthorised access, or unlawful or unnecessary processing of the information we collect as described in section 1 of this Privacy Statement (“Rackspace Collected Information”). For example, we:

- make use of encryption technology as appropriate;
- use appropriate network access control technology to limit access to the systems on which Rackspace Collected Information is stored; and
- monitor for possible vulnerabilities and attacks.

Unfortunately we cannot guarantee that the technical, physical and organizational measures we take will prevent every security threat nor can we guarantee that your Rackspace Collected Information will not be improperly accessed, used, altered or destroyed. We will notify you if we discover there has been a material breach of security, which resulted in an unauthorized disclosure of your Personal Information.

- The steps you should take. To help maintain the security of information you provide to Rackspace or you store on Rackspace’s hosted systems, please follow these rules:
  - Keep your passwords private.
  - If you’re already a customer, remember that you’re responsible for making sure no unauthorized person has access to your passwords and account details. You should promptly notify us if you need to deactivate your login or change your password. You should also implement appropriate security measures for the data you store on the hosted system.
  - Remember, when you use online tools such as our forums, community sites or social networking sites, the content you upload to them will be public. If you don’t want the content you upload to be seen by the rest of the world, please don’t post it!

5. DATA INTEGRITY and RIGHT TO ACCESS YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION

Personal Information we collect is relevant for the purposes for which it is to be used. Rackspace takes reasonable steps to help ensure that data is reliable for its intended use, accurate, complete, and current.

We will retain your information for as long as needed to provide you the Services or as long as needed to fulfil the purpose for which Personal Information was originally collected.

As noted in section 3 above, you have the rights to access, correct and request the deletion of your own Personal Information in accordance with applicable law. You are also entitled to oppose to certain data processing practices or to revoke consent previously granted, to the extent permitted by the law. In order to exercise such rights please log in to the applicable Rackspace control panel to submit a customer support ticket or contact us to the contact data set forth below. When we receive such request, we may inform you of: (i) the information that you or your legal representative will be asked to provide (if any) and documents that you may need to enclose with your request; (ii) timeframes to receive a response from us regarding any request; (iii) forms and templates available for submitting the request (if any) and; (iv) how we will deliver the information to you (which usually would be copies of documents or data messages). Please note that some requests may be subject to a reasonable fee.

If you wish to cancel your account or request that we no longer provide you the Services, please log in to the applicable Rackspace control panel to submit a ticket. In response, we will cancel or remove your information but may retain and use copies of your information as necessary to comply with our legal obligations, resolve disputes, and enforce our agreements.

If you do not have an account with Rackspace, you can send a request by email to privacy@rackspace.com or write to us at the address listed in section 10 of this Privacy Statement.

6. CHILDREN

Our websites and the Services are not designed for or directed at individuals under the age of thirteen (13) or minors otherwise defined in local law or regulation. We will not intentionally collect or maintain information about these individuals. If you believe that we may have collected Personal Information from someone under the age of 13 or from a minor as may be otherwise defined in your country, please let us know using the methods described in the “Inquiries and Complaints” section of this Privacy Statement. We will then take appropriate measures to investigate and, if appropriate, delete that information.

7. VERIFICATION

Rackspace utilizes a self-assessment approach or outside compliance review to assure its compliance with this Privacy Statement and periodically verifies that the Privacy Statement is accurate, comprehensive, prominently displayed, completely implemented, and in conformity with the Privacy Shield Principles or other applicable laws and regulations. Rackspace conducts its self-assessment on an annual basis to ensure that all relevant privacy practices are being followed. Appropriate employee training is in place and internal procedures for periodically conducting objective reviews of compliance are in place. A statement verifying this self-assessment is signed by a corporate officer or other authorized representative at least once a year.

8. CUSTOMER DATA – PERSONAL INFORMATION OF OUR CUSTOMERS’ CLIENTS

If you believe you have provided data to somebody who hosts your Personal Information with us, then this section applies to you!

Our customers use the Service to host, transmit or process data on our hosted systems, which may include your Personal Information (“Customer Data”). In these situations, it is our customers rather than us who decide the reasons for which the Customer Data is collected and otherwise processed. Rackspace will not review, share, distribute, nor reference any such Customer Data except as provided in the agreement that we have in place with the customer, or as may be required by law. Nothing contained in this Privacy Statement shall be construed to alter specific terms and conditions applicable to the Services. Our customers remain responsible for Personal Information that they collect and process and for compliance with applicable data protection laws.

Our customers are responsible for maintaining the security and confidentiality of their accounts and access to the hosted systems, and encrypting any Personal Information they store on or transmit to/from our hosted system.

For details of how the Customer Data will be used and protected, and details of how to access or correct it, amend or delete inaccuracies please refer to the privacy statement of the relevant Rackspace customer to which you submitted your Personal Information. If requested to remove your personal data, we will inform our customer within a reasonable timeframe.

Rackspace provides its services under the direction of its customers, and has no direct relationship with the individuals whose personal data our customers process. If you are a client of one of our customers and would no longer like to be contacted by one of our customers that use our service, please contact the customer that you interact with directly.

We may transfer personal information to companies that help us provide our service. Transfers to subsequent third parties are covered by the service agreements with our customers.

9. PRIVACY PRACTICES OF THIRD PARTIES

This Privacy Statement only addresses the use and disclosure of Personal Information that's collected by Rackspace offline or via Rackspace Websites, the Services, and our mobile-device applications.

In the course of our interactions with you, we may provide you with links to third-party websites for your convenience and information. The privacy practices of those sites may differ from our own practices and are not controlled by us nor covered by this Privacy Statement. We do not make any representations about third-party websites. We encourage you to review their privacy policies before submitting your personal data.

10. INQUIRIES OR COMPLAINTS

If you have a question or complaint about this Privacy Statement or our information collection practices, please contact us at privacy@rackspace.com or write us to General Counsel, Rackspace US, Inc., 1 Fanatical Place, City of Windcrest, San Antonio, TX 78218 or send a letter to our local entities (please see our "Rackspace Hosting Group Companies" page: <http://www.rackspace.com/information/legal/privacystatement/rackspacegroup>).

We will investigate the matter and are committed to resolve any privacy concerns that you may have.

In compliance with the EU-U.S. Privacy Shield and US-Swiss Privacy Shield Principles, Rackspace commits to resolve complaints about your privacy and its collection or use of your Personal Information in accordance with the Rackspace Privacy Shield Notice available at <http://www.rackspace.com/information/legal/privacystatement/privacy-shield>.

If you have a question or complaint about our customers' privacy practices, please contact the customer directly or submit your complaint to abuse@rackspace.com. We will inform our customer about your complaint within a reasonable timeframe.

If you have an unresolved privacy or data use concern that we have not addressed satisfactorily, please contact our U.S. based third party dispute resolution provider (free of charge) at <https://feedback-form.truste.com/watchdog/request>.

11. CHANGES

Our business changes constantly and our Privacy Statement may also change from time to time. The “Last Updated” section at the top of this page states when this Privacy Statement was last revised. You should check the Rackspace Websites frequently to see recent changes.

If any change materially affects the privacy of your Personal Information, we will notify you by posting a notice to this site or by email (to the email address tied to your account) and by posting the Privacy Statement before its effective date and give you a reasonable period of time to object to any changes (which you may do by ceasing to use the our Services, Rackspace Websites, and Rackspace mobile-device applications).

We encourage you to periodically review this Privacy Statement to stay informed about how we collect, use and share Personal Information.
